

...A CHRISTIAN FAMILY FOR your child.

So why consider adoption for your baby? ▶

This may be in one of the most difficult situations in your life -- leaving you confused about what you should do now that you're pregnant.

So now you have a tough decision to make: to provide for a child you weren't planning, or have your baby adopted by a couple who are ready and eager to be parents.

For many women adoption is what it means to be a good mother.

Adoption can be a fresh start for everyone. Women who choose adoption give their babies a hopeful future in a loving home, while creating a hopeful future for themselves, as well.

Adoption is a Heroic Choice

If you're not ready to be a parent, we know couples who are. ▶

The couples are hoping for a hero like you. The men are eager to be good dads; the women want to be loving mothers. They live in big cities and country towns. Some love to travel, others like music. They will love your baby, and they will love you, too.

Your baby will be with a family you choose. We make certain that every couple you consider is ready to love your baby as their very own. We expect them to keep the promises they make to you, to us and to God, so that your baby is always loved, cherished and adored.

Whether or not you choose to have contact with your baby's parents is up to you. You are able to decide how much contact you want to have after your baby is born.

Either way, you will be their hero...FOREVER.

HEROES ARE SUPER-EXTRAORDINARY.

And choosing adoption for your baby requires extraordinary strength and courage. Your child will always think of you as their hero because you chose life for them and made the selfless decision to give your child the opportunities that an adoptive couple can provide.
